AGUA DE MAGNOLIA.

A toilet delight. Superior to any cologne, used to bathe the face and person, to render the skin soft and fresh, to allay inflammation, to perfume clothing, for headache, &c. It is manufactured from the rich southern Magnolia, and is obtaining a patronage quite unprecedented. It is a favorite with actresses and opera singers. It is sold by all dealers, at $1,00 in large bottles, and by Demas Barnes & Co., New York, Wholesale Agents.

Saratoga Spring Water, sold by all Druggists.

S. T.---1860---X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid fever, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS, which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. stamp unmutilated over the cork with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. ☞See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. ☞Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters, from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

Have you a hurt child or a lame horse? Use the Mexican Mustang Liniment.

For cuts, sprains, burns swellings and caked breasts, the Mexican Mustang Liniment is a certain cure.

For rheumatism, neuralgia, stiff joints, stings and bites, there is nothing like the Mexican Mustang Liniment.

For spavined horses, the poll evil, ringbone and sweeny, the Mexican Mustang Liniment never fails.

For wind-galls, scratches, big-head and splint, the Mexican Mustang Liniment is worth its weight in gold.

Cuts, bruises, sprains and swellings are so common and certain to occur in every family, that a bottle of this Liniment is the best investment that can be made.

It is more certain than the doctor—it saves time in sending for the doctor—it is cheaper than the doctor, and should never be dispensed with.

"In lifting the kettle from the fire, it tipped over and scalded my hands terribly. * * * The Mustang Liniment extracted the pain, caused the sore to heal rapidly, and left very little scar.

CHAS. FOSTER, 420 Broad street, Philada.

Mr. S. Litch, of Hyde Park, Vt., writes: "My horse was considered worthless, (spavin,) but since the use of the Mustang Liniment. I have sold him for $150. Your Liniment is doing wonders up here."

All genuine is wrapped in steel plate engravings, signed, G. W. Westbrook, Chemist, and also has the private U. S. stamp of Demas Barnes & Co., over the top.

Look closely, and be not deceived by counterfeits.

Sold by all Druggists at 25, 50 cts, and $1,00.

Saratoga Spring Water, sold by all Druggists.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair turning gray and falling off.
It restores hair upon prematurely bald heads.

This is just what Lyon's Kathairon will do. It is pretty—it is cheap—durable. It is literally sold by the carload, and yet its almost incredible demand is daily increasing, until there is hardly a country store that does not keep it, or a family that does not use it.

Who would not be beautiful? Who would not add to their beauty? What gives that marble purity and distingue appearance we observe upon the stage and in the city belle? It is no longer a secret. They use Hagan's Magnolia Balm. Its continued use removes tan, freckles, pimples, and roughness, from the face and hands, and leaves the complexion smooth, transparent, blooming and ravishing. Unlike many cosmetics, it contains no material injurious to the skin. Any Druggist will order it for you, if not on hand, at 50 cents per bottle.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y. Chemist.

Demas Barnes & Co., Wholesale Agents, N. Y

Saratoga Spring Water, sold by all Druggists.

Heimstreet's inimitable Hair Coloring is not a dye. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, and more or less destroy the vitality and beauty of the hair. This is the original Hair Coloring, and has been growing in favor over twenty years. It restores gray hair to its original color by gradual absorption, in a most remarkable manner. It is also a beautiful hair dressing. Sold in two sizes—50 cents and $1—by all dealers.

LYON'S EXTRACT OF PURE JAMAICA GINGER—for Indigestion, Nausea, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Cholera Morbus, Flatulency, &c., where a warming stimulant is required. Its careful preparation and entire purity make it a cheap and reliable article for culinary purposes. Sold everywhere, at 50 cents per bottle. Ask for "Lyon's" Pure Extract. Take no other.

HUNTINGDON, PA.

"ARE YOU A MASON?"

I am one of a band who will faithfully stand
In the bonds of affection and love;
I have knocked at a door once, wretched and poor,
And there for admission I stood.

By the help of a friend, who assistance did lend,
I succeeded an entrance to gain;
Was received in the West by command from the East,
But not without feeling some pain.

Here my conscience was taught by a moral quite fraught
With sentiments holy and true;
Then onward I traveled to have it unraveled
What Hiram intended to do.

Very soon to the East I made known my request,
And "light" by command did attend;
When, lo! I perceived, in due form revealed,
A Master, and Brother, and Friend.

Thus far I have stated, and simply related
What happened, when I was made free,
But I've "passed" since then, and was "raised up" again
To a sublime and ancient degree.

Thence onward I marched, that I might be "Arched,"
And find out those treasures long lost;
When, behold, a bright flame, from the midst of which came
A voice, which my ears did accost.

Through the "vails" I then went, and succeeded at length
The "Sanctum Sanctorum" to find;
By the "Signet" I gained, and quickly obtained
Employment which suited my mind.

In the depths I then wrought, and most carefully sought
For treasures so long hidden there;
And by labor and toil I discovered rich spoil
Which is kept by the Craft with due care.

Having thus far arrived, I further contrived
Among valiant Knights to appear;
And as pilgrim and Knight, I stood ready to fight,
Nor Saracen foe did I fear.

For the widow distressed there's a chord in my breast;
For the helpless and orphan I feel;
And my sword I could draw to maintain the pure law
Which the duty of Masons reveal.

Thus have I revealed (yet fully concealed)
What the "free and accepted" well know;
I am one of a band who will faithfully stand
As a brother wherever I go.

WIT AND HUMOR.

☞The following story of a New York broker shows something of Chas. Lamb's delicate humor. The broker, who like Lamb, stutters, passing down Broadway, noticed a placard announcing that the Siamese Twins were on exhibition. He entered the hall, asked the attendant if these were the re-reo-real Siamese twins; and upon being assured that they were, proceeded to ask a great many questions which were fully answered. At last, seizing hold of the ligature that connects Eng and Chang, the broker asked "S-a-a-me age?" "Yes," replied the agent; when looking into the latter's face, the stutterer remarked, "B b-rothers I presume."

☞There is a legend that one day a woman went to Brigham Young for counsel touching some alleged oppression by an officer of the church. Brigham, like a true politician, assumed to know her; but when it became necessary to record her case, hesitated, and said: "Let me see, sister—I forget your name." "My name!" was the indignant reply; "why, I am your wife!" "When did I marry you?"—The woman informed the "President," who referred to an account book in his desk, and then said: "Well, I believe you are right; I know your face was familiar."

☞In a town not far from Boston a clergyman was visiting a district school, where a little boy was put forward by the teacher to 'speak a piece' because he was bold. When he had done, the clergyman praised him by saying, "Why, my little lad, you are not afraid, are you?" "No, sir. I ain't afraid of nothing. I ain't afraid of skunks!"

☞The friends of a celebrated wit expressed some surprise that at his age, and with his fondness for the bottle he should have thought it necessary to marry. "A wife was necessary," he said, "my acquaintances began to say that I drank too much for a single man."

☞A lecturer writes: "The fullest house I have had was at Pithole City, in the oil regions. Every man was full of beer. The lecture went off very well, notwithstanding. It didn't go off as well as my doorkeeper did—he went off with the receipts."

☞A man with a large family was recently complaining of the difficulty he had in supporting them all, and was told by a friend that he "had some big enough to earn something." His answer was, "Yes, but they are too big to work."

☞The "Persimmon County Debating Club" out in Indiana, are debating the question, "Which is the proudest, a girl with her first beau, or a woman with her first baby?"

☞A school committee man writes: we have a school house large enough to accommodate four hundred pupils four stories high.

☞Age is venerable in man, and would be in woman—if ever she became old.

☞Domestic Magazines: Wives who are always blowing up their husbands.

☞We like a black eye. We like a blue eye. We don't like a black and blue one.

A TALK WITH THE LADIES.

A lady correspondent thus addresses the gentler sex:

For many months I do not remember to have taken in my hands a paper which did not contain one or more recitals of woe and degradation, revolting to all that is good and pure in heart, or of crimes so horrid that the reading about them would almost congeal the blood as it was flowing through the veins. The question naturally arises, what can be the cause of all this wickedness? Am I in any way responsible or accountable for it? Is there any way in which I can mitigate the evil abroad in our land? An answer has come to me repeatedly, saying, Yes, you and your whole sex are responsible as those who carry an influence, not only through the circle of your acquaintance, but far, far, beyond.

That influence may be "but as a drop in the mighty ocean," or it may be as the glorious luminary of day which lights the earth. According to that influence you will be held (in some degree) accountable for its effects. It has been said that "man ruled the world, but that woman ruled man." Now, if this be true, and all women are willing to think so, how fearful is our responsibility.

I do not ask for my sex a voice in the halls of the state or a ballot at the polls; but I do ask that many of the precious moments, now multiplying themselves into hours, which are spent perverting or destroying the beautiful adornments which God has given us, should be spent by mothers planting in the hearts of their sons the true principles and virtues which will render them discerning patriots at the polls, and moral, upright citizens, at all times. Leave to the African the frizzled hair as their Maker intended, and brush your own long silken tresses in the modest style adorning the true woman; then discharge to the best of your ability, the duty of training the immortal spirits entrusted to your care. Remember Cornelia of old; was it because she was the leader of fashion that the grateful Romans erected to her memory a monument more enviable than the beautiful Helen ever achieved? Ah! no, but because she had trained for them two jewels who were ornaments to their country.

I call upon the ladies of our broad land to think of the great and useless extravagance in which they indulge, and also to reflect upon the moral effects of that extravagance. I do not now refer especially to the exorbitant price paid for the fanciful arrangements of lace and flowers which is placed upon the crown of the head, nor to the expensive silk which is gracefully sweeping the streets; no, not to these alone do I refer, though they are a few of the "littles" that go to form the ponderous whole which is crushing the virtue and morality of our people.

Perhaps there is one out of every twenty of the elegantly-dressed ladies on our streets, who is peculiarly able thus to add to the coffers of our merchants of every class; then there are eight-twentieths who, regardless of the hard earned wages of a father or a husband, are trying to imitate the heiress of thousands; there may be four twentieths who are thus wasting their own honorably earned money; but what, then, are the base means to which the other seven-twentieths of our sex resort, in order that they may equal, if not excel, the heiress in richness of apparel and in indolence? It may be that the lady of wealth who reads this will say: "It is not my fault if made sad by their loved ones in allowing them to imitate me; it is their sin that many sell themselves, body and soul, in order to excel me, if possible." It is your fault; because you delight in being the envied of hundreds, not for your love and charity to suffering humanity, but for the gorgeousness of your habiliments, and because it was your heartless demeanor which has driven many a poor but virtuous woman down to the depths of degradation; it is in part your sin, and one for which you will have to answer.

Pause to think of this; ask yourself if it would have detracted any from your position and importance as a lady to have spoken kindly to that poor orphan sewing girl, or that tradesman's daughter, who chanced to wear a robe of coarser material than yours?

Perhaps some one will ask, is it not our duty to make ourselves (by adornment) as pleasing as possible to those around us, especially our husbands, or maybe lovers? It is; but with all this lavish expenditure, are we any more pleasing than Rachael was, for whom Jacob served and waited seven years, or Lucretia, to whom was awarded the honor of being the most noble lady, while busy at the loom with her maids? Think of a lady being busy at her loom! Why many would consider themselves disgraced by a knowlege of its use! Let us adorn ourselves with that modesty of bearing, gentleness of temper, and Christain forbearance, which is more charming as it speaks with love and kind reproof to an erring sister or brother, than all the gems of Golconda; it is more lasting, for it defies the touch of time, and will live in the influence we have exerted, long after we are sleeping in our lowly beds of earth. The reform in the extravagance of both sexes is important; it is necessary to our life as a virtuous people, and it cannot efficiently begin with one alone, for she would only be marked as old and eccentric. It must be made by a number of ladies of wealth and position, who can then give the noble reason which actuates them, and by the silent workings of their power, in a few short years they will achieve more than the eloquence of Clay or Webster ever gained. Then think how rapidly homes could be made to rise for our maimed defenders, our orphans and widows, schools for the ignorant, and hospitals for the suffering.

This "amendment" will rapidly abolish the mercenary trade in matrimony because then there will be no necessity for the ladies and gentlemen each to consult the assessor's list for the value of the one they love.

Divorcements will be unheard of, and elopements become unpopular. As a furtherance of our plan of reform, and a partial reward, we ask for the modest girl who is neatly but simply attired, an equal share of the attention given the flaunting heiress by the "lords of creation."

Caught in his own Trap.

A girl, young and pretty, and above all, gifted with an air admirable candor, lately presented herself before a Parisian lawyer.

"Monsieur, I have come to consult you upon a grave affair. I want you to oblige a man I love to marry me in spite of himself. How shall I proceed?"

The gentleman of the bar had, of course, a sufficiently elastic conscience. He reflected a moment, and then being sure that no third person overheard him, replied hesitatingly:

"Mademoiselle, according to our law, you always possess the means of forcing a man to marry you. You must remain on three occasions alone with him; you then can go before a Judge and swear that he is your lover."

"And will that suffice, Monsieur?"

"Yes, Mademoiselle, with one further condition."

"Well!"

"Then you will produce witnesses who will make oath to having seen you remain a good quarter of an hour with the individual said to have trifled with your affections."

"Very well, Monsieur, I will retain you as counsel in the management of this affair. Good day."

A few days afterwards the young lady returned. She was mysteriously received by the lawyer, who scarcely gave her time to seat herself, questioned her with the most lively curiosity.

"Capital, capital."

"Persevere in your design, Madamoiselle; but mind, the next time you come to consult me give me the name of the young man you are going to make so happy in spite of himself."

"You shall have it without fail."

A fortnight afterward, the young lady again knocked at the door of the counsel's room. No sooner was she within, than she flung herself into a chair, saying the walk had made her breathless. Her counsel endeavored to reassure her, made her inhale salts, and even proposed to unloose her garments.

"It is useless, monsieur," she said, "I am much better."

"Well now, tell me the name of the fortunate mortal."

"Well, then, the fortunate mortal, be it known to you, is yourself!" said the young beauty, bursting into a laugh. "I love you; I have been here three times tete-a-tete with you, and my four witnesses are below, ready and willing to accompany me to a magistrate," gravely continued the narrator.

The lawyer, thus caught, had the good sense not to get angry. The most singular fact of all is that he adores his young wife, who, by the way makes an excellent housekeeper.

A BEAUTIFUL EXPERIMENT.—If an acorn be suspended by a piece of thread to within half an inch of some water contained in a hyacinth glass, and permitted to remain without being disturbed, it will in a few months throw a root down into the water, and shoot upward its tapering stem, with beautiful little green leaves. A young oak tree, growing in this way on a mantle-shelf of a room is a very interesting object.

Facts About Sheep and Wool.

We make the following interesting extracts from the address of John L. Hayes, Esq., before the National Association of Wool Growers, delivered at the annual meeting at Philadelphia:

Antiquity of Sheep.

We find sheep mentioned in the most ancient writing, in the first chapter of Genesis, in the Persian Zend Avesta, in the Indian Vedes, and in the Chinese Chouking, and represented on the monuments of Egypt. According to Geoffroy Saint Hilaire, the highest authority on the origin of species, the specific source of our domestic sheep is unknown. All that is certain is that the present race originated in the East; the primitive names, Bock, and Bouc, found in the most ancient and Asiatic languages, being preserved in our form Buck.

Varieties.

Excepting, perhaps, the dog, the sheep presents a greater variety of form and covering than any other animal. Thus we have the coarse Cordova and Donskoi wools for our carpets; the noble electoral wools of Saxony and Silesia for our broad-cloths; the strong middle wools of the Southdown and our native sheep for blankets; the soft, long and other merino wools of France, Vermont and Michigan for thibets, delaines and shawls; the longer and coarser combing wools of the Cotswood and Leicester races for worsteds in their thousand applications; the very long and bright haired lustre wools of Lincolnshire for alpaca fabrics, and lastly, the precious silky Mauchamp wool the recent triumph of French agonomic skill, rivaling even the cashmere for shawls, and the angora for Utrecht velvet.

Durability of Fibre.

The perfection of the fibre is shown in its indestructibleness and durability. Cotton and flax may be ultimately reduced to mere woody fibre. Wool is almost incapable of mechanical destruction. The existence of "shoddy," the term of reproach to the woolen manufacturers, is the strongest proof of the excellence and indestructibility of its original fibre.

The Felting Property.

The fibre of wool is crisped or spirally curled, and is made up of cells of different kinds—the interior forming the pith, and the exterior consisting of serrated rings, imbricated over each other, having under the microscope the appearance of a series of thimbles of uneven edges inserted into each other, these serratures, as well as the spiral curls, being more or less distinct, according to the fineness of the fibre. We have here the cause of the invaluable quality of felting, to which we owe our hats and broadcloths.

Amount of Wool to each Inhabitant.

The aggregate production of wool in the whole globe is estimated at 1,610,000,000 pounds, or a pound and a quarter to each inhabitant.

The Roman Purple.

Wool was largely used by the Romans. An instance is cited where a single Patrician bequeathed by will two hundred thousand sheep. The finest kind, however, appear to have been valued very highly.

The Roman purple worn by the senators, was made from wools of Italy, which, according to Pliny, were worth four dollars per pound of twelve ounces, and which, of the same weight, were worth one hundred and sixty dollars when colored with the Tyrian dye. It is not strange, then, that Horace should boast of a gift to his mistress twice dyed with the Tyrian murex. The world has regretted, for many centuries, the loss of this imperial dye; but within the last ten years, or no later than 1856, chemistry has produced from aniline, a product of worthless coal tar, a purple tint, resisting light, alkalis and acids, and rivaling, upon the light worsted zephyrs of our simple maidens, the hue of the patrician mantle.

Shoddy.

Twenty-five years ago woolen rags were worth about £4 per ton, and were used only for manure. They are now worth in England £40 per ton to be converted again into cloth. It is estimated that, in the neighborhood of Leeds, 5,000,000 to 8,000,000 yards of cloth, of the value of $15,000,000, are annually manufactured from this material, and that, if the supply of shoddy were stopped, it would stop one-third of the woolen mills in the United Kingdom, and bring distress upon the West Riding in Yorkshire, as great as that lately suffered in Lancashire from the want of cotton. It is disclosed on the report of the London Exhibition of 1862, that sixty-five million pounds of shoddy are annually consumed in England, a greater quantity than the whole wool product of the United States, estimated at 60,264,913 pounds by the census of 1860! It is one of the advantages of depending upon foreign importation for our goods, that we are in blissful ignorance of their origin, and are not shocked with the consciousness of being clad in the cast-off habiliments of a Polish Jew or Italian beggar.

Bonaparte as a Sheep Man.

Napoleon said, "Spain has twenty-five millions of Merinos; I wish France to have a hundred millions." To effect this, among other administrative aids, he established sixty additional sheepfolds to those of Rambouillet, where agriculturists could obtain the use of Spanish rams without expense. Visiting the establishment for printing calicoes of the celebrated Oberhampf, Napoleon said to him, as he saw the perfection of the fabrics, "We are both of us carrying on a war with England, but I think that yours, after all, is the best." "These words," says Mr. Ranbdoing, "so flattering and so just, were repeated from one end of France to the other; they so inflamed the imaginations of the people, that the meanest artisan, believing himself called upon to be the auxiliary of the great man, had but one thought, the ruin of England."

Playing Editor.

The editor of the Mobile Register & Advertiser gives the following sketch of the performance of a temporary assistant of his. It is very funny:—About ten o'clock yesterday, Cobbwebb came into the sanctum to look over the papers. "Cobbwebb," said we, "what've you got to do to-day?" "Nothing particular," said he, "why?" "We just want to know if you couldn't stay here for a few hours and supply the boys with copy if they get out before we come back—here are plenty of exchange papers that you can clip from." "Certainly," said Cobbwebb, "I've got nothing to do."

We handed Cobbwebb our scissors, and went around to a billiard saloon with a young gentleman from the agricultural districts, who wished to import the game into his neighborhood, and wanted first to learn how to play it. Finding that there was no call for copy at the end of half an hour, Cobbwebb found the editorial business drier than the sort he had been used to, and went out to get a drink. When a man of Cobbwebb's temperament and natural tendency to thirst deliberately goes out to get a drink he seldom thinks it worth his while to return to the post of duty until he has taken several.—Consequently when Cobbwebb got back to the office he wore a veil of invisible gauze over his eyes, his legs were as limber as a log chain, and to tell the truth, he couldn't tell an inkstand from a soup-kettle, nor a pair of scissors from a saw-horse. In the midst of this state of things, there was a demand for copy. Cobbwebb aroused himself to meet the demand. The printer placed the scissors and a copy of a Cincinnati paper in his hand.—"Here," said Cobbwebb, "hic—here's some poetry; when you (hic) get that set up, come (hic) back and get some (hic) more." Cobbwebb's poetry was as follows:

DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.

On Central Avenue,
Square 16, lots 27 and 28,
" 12, lot 67 feet front.

On Western Avenue,
Square 10, lots 4 and 18 inclusive,
" 11, lots 1 to 11,
" 14, lot 2.

When we returned, at one o'clock, we found Cobbwebb seated in the coal scuttle, engaged in a dreamy attempt to clip a piece of copy out of the brim of his hat with the tongs.

MOTHERS.—Some one has said that a young mother is the most beautiful thing in nature. Why qualify it?—Why young? Are not all mothers beautiful? The sentimental outside beholder may prefer youth in the pretty picture; but I am inclined to think that sons and daughters, who are most intimately concerned in the matter, love and admire their mothers most when they are old. How suggestive of something holy and venerable it is, when a person talks of his "dear old mother!" Away with your mincing "mammas," and "mammas" suggestive only of a fine lady, who deputes her duties to a nurse, a drawing-room maternal parent, who is afraid to handle her offspring for fear of spoiling her fine new gown! Give me the homely mother, the arms of whose love are all embracing, who is beautiful always, whether old or young, whether arrayed in satin or modestly attired in bombazine.

"I know of no mode in which a loyal citizen may so well demonstrate his devotion to his country as by sustaining the Constitution and the Union, under all circumstances, and UNDER EVERY ADMINISTRATION REGARDLESS OF PARTY POLITICS, AGAINST ALL ASSAILANTS, AT HOME AND ABROAD."—STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS.

☞The party leaders in the South are again at work inciting the people to oppose the Constitutional Amendments imposed on them by the North. This policy we indeed deprecate, not only for the best welfare of the South, but for the benefit of the nation. At first, after the late elections, we thought the people of the South would be led to consider that in those amendments rested their salvation; but hardly has the result of those elections been known until we hear that Southern leaders are opposing them. There may be good reasons assigned for this opposition, but we cannot see what practical good will result, if the masses of the Southern people oppose them, while the masses of the Northern people favor them. The leaders may oppose them because one of its provisions deprive them of holding office, and this is the strongest incentive in the amendment to excite opposition from the Southern leaders; but yet what good can be done, what peace restored, when the Northerners are determined that they shall not hold any office? It was this argument, indeed, more than any other contained in the amendment, that actuated thousands of the easily persuaded in the North to vote for the amendments; it was the argument in every Republican's mouth, and launched forth in every Republican paper. Reason and common sense could find no responses to that one sophistry—Do you want rebels to rule? That we might say carried the election. And now, what can rebel leaders in the South expect to gain with all their arguments when they are told "you want to rule." They would soon find that their reasoning could not prevail over prejudice. Rebel leaders and rebels at heart will therefore be obliged to "hold "back seats" and not urge their claims until the tide of passion has swept away.

But we fear that many are led to oppose the amendments because they have been told that even should the South adopt them they will not be admitted. When we reflect that the amendments are the Congressional Plan of Reconstruction, and then hear it said by leading men in the North and in Congress that even should the South adopt that plan of reconstruction, in which it had no voice, it will not be admitted, we are moved with compassion for the Southern people, and are almost led to apologize for their seeming resistance to that plan. To refuse the South admission after ratifying those conditions would be worse by far than if they would refuse conditions more severe; because if severe they might be made mild, but if these are accepted, nothing could actuate them to adopt further conditions in order to be admitted, because being deceived once they could not trust us again. But for our part we have faith in the pledges of the people, and we believe that when they decreed the South should be admitted on the terms of those amendments they made it in sincerity. Had we a voice in the South we would urge their adoption, believing that more was to be gained by that course than there would be in opposing them. Should they be accepted, the people of the North would have every assurance of their loyalty and willingness to remain in the Union; they would move the masses of the North to sympathize with them should Radical men attempt to keep them out of the Union; they would insure peace to the country; they would be conferring a blessing on themselves and posterity; and they would open the way for renewed activity and prosperity within their borders, causing immigration to flow thitherward, and thus healing the long-festering wound of dissension between the two sections. This would be gained if they accept the amendments, while directly the opposite, we believe, will be the result if they persist in opposing them.

We, it is true, did not favor the amendments, nor, of themselves considered, do we yet; for what we predicted, is inevitably coming to pass—that negroes north and south would get a vote through the implication of the first section. But we now favor them through policy, believing that the South is surer to get admission by them than by any other plan. Whatever we do we desire done for the perpetuation of the Union, and the restoration of peace and harmony in every section. Wherever we see the best chance for the accomplishment of such a result that chance we will approve and endeavor to improve. We hope to see right prevail and wrong abolished, in whatever quarter; and for this reason we would like to see the South accept the amendments, and thus frustrate the designs of the Radicals.

THE Governor has appointed the 29th of this month as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer.

☞The contest for United States Senator appears to have settled down as between Curtin and Cameron. Thad. Stevens will have a few votes. Forney may have two or three. But neither Curtin nor Cameron can secure a majority in caucus, then Louis W. Hall stands the best chances as a compromise candidate with the people, but the politicians may be swallowed up by Simon. The arguments he uses have a telling effect upon some members whose pocket books are rather light.

Nomination of a Negro.

We find the following telegraphic announcement made in the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph:

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—The Republicans in the Sixth Ward of this city have nominated Mr. Charles L. Mitchell, a colored citizen, to represent them in the Legislature of the State.

Wendell Phillips' teaching is being listened to—but we think Massachusetts Republicanism is slightly in advance of Pennsylvania Republicanism.

RELIGIOUS STATISTICS OF PENNSYLVANIA.—The following table shows the relative numbers of the different religious denominations in this State.—These statistics are taken from the latest official publications of the bodies named. Some of the figures are estimates, but from the data used they must be very nearly correct:

Denominations.	Churches.	Ministers.	Members.
Methodists	837	492	81,192
Lutherans	626	369	97,947
German Reformed	633	238	75,884
O. S. Presbyterian	589	534	63,663
Baptist	390	352	41,319
Episcopalian	220	233	22,041
N. S. Presbyterian	128	142	16,630
Other bodies	400	235	40,000
Totals	4,021	2,593	443,000

☞It is very clear to every observing man that many of the most prominent men in politics show a stronger desire to hold office than they do for the preservation of peace in our country. Take the offices out of an issue and the most noisy politicians would be deaf and dumb.

Miss Frances A. Seward.

With sincere regret we announce the death this morning, at half past 6 o'clock, of Miss Frances A. Seward, only daughter of Hon. W. H. Seward, Secretary of State. She was an amiable and accomplished young lady and devotedly attached to her, father, who reciprocated her affection with the most tender and considerate love. His bereavement is indeed great.

Miss Seward, while invalid at Auburn, where she was suffering from an affection of the lungs, which did not prevent her from visiting her mothers grave daily, received a despatch conveying the tidings of her father's serious illness on his return from his western tour with the President. She hastened from the grave of her mother to her suffering father, joined him at Harrisburg, and accompanied him to this city, where she remained until her death. Her tender care aided in restoring her father, and seemed to have given her renewed vigor, as her health steadily improved, and she rode out on several occasions with the family.

About ten days since, however, she had a bilious attack of extraordinary severity, and for a few days past laid in a comatose state, not recognizing any one. Yesterday, however, she seemed to rally, and was conscious of her father's attendance on her. The improvement was but temporary, as she had a profuse perspiration during the night, and died this morning, as we have stated. Miss Seward was in her 22d year.

The funeral service will take place at St. John's Church, at 3½ o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. The remains be removed to Auburn, N. Y., but it has not yet been determined at what time.—Washington Star, 29th.

Every-Day Life of General Grant.

The Washington correspondent relates the following:

"I have just been thinking of an incident related to me a day or two ago of Gen. Grant, told to me by an officer of his staff, that is so perfectly characteristic of the man that I am induced to repeat it here. It seems that a few days after his appointment and confirmation as the General of the United States Army, it was known that his commission was signed and awaiting him at the White House; and the next day, in honor of the great event, all of the headquarter officers appeared in full dress to accompany their chief, as they supposed, while he formally received his commission. But which they were waiting for him to summon them to attend him, a man attired in a duster, and an old pair of gray pantaloons and a slouched hat was to be seen entering the President's house. Very soon he appeared with a piece of parchment in his hand, and walked to the War Department. He stopped in the office of the notary public, and the clerk in informing old General Thomas, who was in an adjoining room, of the job before him, remarked that the visitor was a rough old fellow. General Thomas returned, and the required oath was taken. The man who took that oath was General U. S. Grant. The commission was that of General United States Army.

"Prosperity has not harmed General Grant. He loves vain display and affectation no more than he did six years ago. His old friends are his friends still. Quietly and happily he lives here with his family. Mornings, about nine o'clock, he can be seen on his way to his office, oftimes accompanied by his little son on horseback, followed by but one orderly, who is more an object of use than show. He takes great pleasure in his horses, and has collected as fine a stud as are outside the stables of a professional. His smoking is as inveterate as ever. The other day at a dinner-table, a certain gentleman, who is apt to think, (like many others, too) that that which he has, uses and comes in contact with, is a little better than his neighbors, remarked on the quality of his cigar, that it cost $10 a hundred, and was the best article in the city. 'I wonder,' quickly said a person who knows Grant, 'if it is any better than General Grant's, which cost $60.' The first gentleman subsided."

THE BALTIMORE TROUBLE.

The Old Commissioners Deposed and New Ones Appointed.

GREAT EXCITEMENT!

The New Commissioners and Sheriff Arrested and Committed to Prison.

In our last issue we closed the news from Baltimore with the old Commissioners receiving a hearing before the Governor. On Wednesday the Governor gave a lengthy decision against the Commissioners, removed them, and on Friday morning the announcement was made that he had appointed Jas. Young and Wm. T. Valliant to take their place, who immediately issued the following proclamation:

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 2, 1866.

Board of Police:

Having been appointed Police Commissioners by His Excellency Governor Swann, vice Samuel Hinds and Nicholas L. Wood, removed, we desire to State that in the prosecution of the duties assigned us, we do not design interference in any respect with the police now organized, or to remove any person connected with it for his political opinions, provided he does not hereafter render himself amenable to the laws now in force for the government of the police of Baltimore. We believe that the officers and men in the department are disposed to be what the law requires them to be, conservators of the peace; and it is hoped and expected that they will cheerfully aid us in preserving the peace of the city. We also invoke all good citizens to assist us by their counsel and example, and that they will use their best endeavors to prevent any undue excitement, and that they will also advise all disposed to act otherwise to quietly and peaceably acquiesce in the measures now about being inaugurated by the authority of the Governor.

(Signed) JAMES YOUNG.
WM. T. VALLIANT.

The following Telegraphic dispatches we take from Philadelphia papers:

BALTIMORE Nov. 3.—This has been a day of intense excitement in Baltimore, exceeding that on the 19th of April, 1861, and equal to that memorable Sunday when Gilmore surrounded and threatened it. Early this morning it was currently reported that the Sheriff was gathering a posse to aid the new Commissioners in obtaining the possession of the Station Houses, where a large number of the old police force were stationed. The streets were filled with anxious and excited people, and large crowds were gathered around and in the vicinity of the Marshal's office, and everything indicated a popular outbreak.

Messrs. Valiant and Young, the newly appointed Police Commissioners, went, at ten o'clock this morning to the office of the old Board to demand the books, papers, and possession of the office, but were refused admittance at the door. There was immense crowd in front of the office. All of the police officers and the special police adhered to the old Board, and there was much hurrahing and groaning, etc.

Finally, after a few minutes, the newly appointed Commissioners proceeded to the office of William Schley, their counsel, in Lexington street, followed by a vast crowd, mostly their political adherents, to ask advice as to their future course. No police were with the crowd, all the force being engaged guarding the station houses and office of the Police Board, and other places.

The people are now greatly excited, and the thoroughfares are filled with anxious crowds. Business is pretty much suspended, and there are significant indications that the military may be called upon before the day ends, which, if done, and the old Board persist, they may be arrested, and the city put under martial law.

Governor Swann is here, and more officers and soldiers are visible than usual. Things look very squally. There is a large force of newspaper reporters here from the North and Washington, including Hon. J. W. Forney.

At noon the new Commissioners, after spending about an hour with their counsel at his office, got into a carriage, having a document understood to be a formal demand for the delivery of the office into their possession.

They took a circuitous route, and after making a detour of about one mile to avoid the crowds, approached the Commissioners' office, where their appearance was the signal for tumultuous demonstrations of disapproval by the now largely increased crowd.

They were again admitted to the inclosure, and at the door of the office were met by the Clerk of the Commissioners, who received their document, telling them that the Commissioners would immediately consider the matter and make their reply in writing.

Messrs. Valiant and Young then drove off to the corner of North and Baltimore streets to the conservative headquarters, where they were received with loud cheering by the crowd gathered there. It is now understood they are organizing a new force. Quite a number of the old force resigned last night, and reported to Messrs. Young and Valiant this morning.

General Canby is here; but will not call out the troops unless an absolute riot occurs, which has not yet taken place.

It seems that the new Board are determined to persist in their efforts to obtain possession of the station houses, and the old Board seem equally determined to resist them.

Things just now looked very feverish and it was momentarily expected that an outbreak would take place, in which event martial law will be proclaimed.

About noon to-day, six companies of United States regulars (infantry) arrived here from New York, via. your city, and marched at once to Fort McHenry.

2 P. M.—The new Commissioners are still in their new office in North street, busily engaged in appointing their new police and other officers. They are also appointing judges of election for next Tuesday. They demanded from the old Board a written statement of what they designed doing, giving two hours for a reply; but no reply has yet been sent, and proabbly none will be. It is understood that the new Board have determined that the election next Tuesday shall be conducted under their rule at newly selected election precincts, whilst the old Board are equally determined that said election shall be held under their orders, at the same old precincts, with the same judges; hence, if United States troops do not interfere (and they are not much inclined to do so), two separate elections will be held, the radicals voting at one place, and the conservatives at another.

2½ P. M.—The Police Commissioners, Young and Valiant, have been arrested by the city authorities, and are before Judge Bond, of the City Criminal Court, on a charge of common disturbers of the public peace. The excitement is very great, but there is no fighting. Sheriff Thompson has also been arrested for illegally swearing in new police officers.

At the Court House a few of the regular police force appeared in the vestibule, and commenced at once to eject the Sheriff's posse, who were crowding up the stairway from the south entrance to the Sheriff's office above. A scuffle ensued, and for a time there was considerable confusion and much threatening language used. Many of the spectators becoming alarmed, made a hasty exit from the building, causing much excitement outside.

Presently the new Commissioners were seen approaching from the north end of the building, in Lexington street. They had scarcely entered, when Marshal Carmichael appeared, coming from the direction of the Central Police Station, at the head of a large body of police, who made a rapid entrance, and in a few minutes cleared the Sheriff's posse out of the building.

On entering the Criminal Court, a Deputy Sheriff appeared, and announced that the bench-warrants for the arrest of Valiant and Young had been served, and in a few minutes thereafter the Sheriff appeared with Messrs. Valiant and Young in custody.

The Court informed them that there would be an opportunity afforded them to procure counsel. Presently their counsel appeared, and inquired for the affidavits upon which the arrest had been made.

The State's Attorney briefly recited the evidence that had been given by the witnesses upon whose testimony the bench warrants for the arrest had been issued.

The counsel for the new Commissioners then proceeded to argue that the arrest was an unwarrantable one. Their clients were the duly commissioners of Police, and were exercising only their legal authority.

Judge Bond, however, gave his decided order that each of the parties (Valiant and Young) be required to give bail in the sum of $25,000 to keep the peace towards the Board of Police of the city of Baltimore.

Sheriff Thompson was also required to give bail in the same amount. It is understood that all the parties refused to give bail, and it is expected they will be committed.

There are reports that they intend to appeal to General Canby to be released from custody. The new police officers have disappeared from the streets. Some of them have been arrested.

All is quiet, but a deep interest is manifested by the large crowds of people in the streets, eagerly discussing affairs.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 3.—The rain this evening has probably prevented a serious riot. Until nightfall the excitement was intense, and there was every appearance of a serious collision. At this hour (midnight) everything is quiet, but public feeling is such that an outbreak may be looked for at any moment. A generous sympathy for Gov. Swann's Commissioners is expressed everywhere.

BALTIMORE, Monday, Nov. 5, one o'clock, A. M.—Writ of habeas corpus served on Warden of jail for release of prisoners. Warden declined to make return to writ and claimed that he had three days in which to make return. The cases are being argued by counsel before Judge Bartol.

10.30, A. M.—The headquarters of the new Commissioners are in jail.—They announce that the election will be held under their authority and any other will be illegal. The old Board advertise the election under their rule.

11 A. M.—The only disturbance reported yesterday occurred late in the afternoon, and grew out of an attempt to arrest a man for creating a general disturbance and cheering for President Johnson. The bystanders interfered to prevent the arrest. James Manly offered assistance to the police, when pistols were drawn on both sides and several shots were fired.

The crowd then pursued the officers through the streets for several blocks, firing on them several times and wounding Mr. Manly. The officers effected their escape, and have since made several arrests of parties concerned in the affair.

[No news later than 11 A. M. The cases were still being argued before Court. Gen. Grant was in consultation with Gov. Swann. He desired to preserve the peace.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The 3d battalion of the 12th United States Infantry, and the United States marines, have been under orders here since Friday for Baltimore, but have not started yet. Trains have been in constant readiness to take them on at a moment's notice. A large quantity of ammunition has been prepared at the Arsenal for transportation to Baltimore in case of necessity.

HOG CHOLERA IN KENTUCKY.—A correspondent of the Louisville Journal, writing from Richmond, Kentucky says much excitement prevails in that quarter, in consequence of the hog cholera. He states, as an example, that Mr. Robert Cornelison, a gentleman residing three miles east of the village, was, on Tuesday last, the owner of one hundred and five as fine hogs as we ever seen, their weight ranging from one hundred and fifty to five hundred pounds each. Wednesday, five of them died, and yesterday twenty more of the largest and finest of the lot followed. He has now but eighty left, and has but very little hopes of saving any of them. His losses so far will amount to about $700, and, should he lose the whole lot, his losses will be swelled to over $3,000. Mr. C. is but one of a large number of sufferers, on many of whom the loss will tell with a severe, if not crushing effect.

Beaver, his associates, Judges of the county of Huntingdon, justices assigned, appointed to hear, try and determine all and every indictments made or taken for or concerning all crimes, which by the laws of the State are made capital, or felonies of death, and other offences, crimes and misdemeanors, which have been or shall hereafter be committed or perpetrated, for crimes aforesaid—I am commanded to make public proclamation throughout my whole bailiwick, that a Court of Oyer and Terminer, of Common Pleas and Quarter Sessions, will be held at the Court House in the borough of Huntingdon, on the second Monday (and 12th day) of November next, and those who will prosecute the said prisoners, be then and there to prosecute them as it shall be just, and that all Justices of the Peace, Coroner and Constables within said county, be then and there in their proper persons, at 10 o'clock, a. m. of said day, with their records, inquisitions, examinations and remembrances, to do those things which to their offices respectively appertain.

Dated at Huntingdon, the 16th of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, and the 90th year of American Independence.

JAS. F. BATHURST, Sheriff.

PROCLAMATION.—WHEREAS, by a precept to me directed by the Judges of the Common Pleas of the county of Huntingdon, bearing test the 25th day of August, A. D. 1866, I am commanded to make public Proclamation throughout my whole bailiwick, that a Court of Common Pleas will be held at the Court House in the borough of Huntingdon, on the 3rd Monday (and 19th day) of November, A. D., 1866, for the trial of all issues in said Court which remain undetermined before the said Judges, when and where all jurors, witnesses, and suitors, in the trials of all issues are required.

Dated at Huntingdon, the 16th of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, and the 90th year of American Independence.

JAS. F. BATHURST, Sheriff.

Brief Items.

—We had a very slight fall of snow here on Wednesday last. Not enough for sore eyes, however.

—Mr. Conrad Ulrich, of Lewistown, had his leg broken by falling off a hay wagon.

—There are said to be 30,000 lawyers in the United States. Huntingdon has a full complement.

—Col. Jno. Hamilton, of Lewistown, has been appointed U. S. Assessor for Mifflin county, vice Joseph Milliken, removed.

—A wreck occurred on the Pennsylvania railroad near the upper dam above town on Thursday afternoon last. Not much damage was done.

—Mr. I. D. McKee, the popular gentlemanly conductor on the Pennsylvania Railroad was one of the victims in the recent accident at Parkesburg.—His arm was shockingly broken, but we understand he is rapidly recovering.

—The Huntingdon Mozart Association will give an entertainment at Bloody Run on Friday evening next. The citizens of that place may expect a grand musical feast, with numerous opportunities to excite their mirth.

—Laden with honors too heavy to bear—A certain base ball club formerly known as the Social. Never mind boys, there's a better day coming. For further particulars, inquire of No. 58, Hollidaysburg, and No. 11, Johnstown.

—According to one of the laws enacted at the last session of the Legislature, sundry Baptist churches in Cambria, Blair, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Juniata and Centre counties are incorporated, to be called the Centre Association of Independent, or Regular, Baptist Churches.

—The Juniata Independent Oil Company, which was organized for the purpose of bringing oil out of Juniata county, have concluded to sell their effects. They had bored several hundred feet, and had spent several thousand dollars. It is rumored the stockholders will come to Huntingdon to hold a consolation meeting with their "brothers in distress."

—We publish the following for the benefit of those whom it may concern: Persons who leave their seats in church before the benediction, in order to be out in advance of the rest of the congregation, are requested to wait inside until everybody else has gone, when one penny each will be awarded them, in testimony of their politeness. It is thought this notice will be particularly applicable to those inquisitive individuals who crowd the church doors before and after service.

—The following is a description of the desperado Matthews who set fire to the barn of Mr. Wm. P. Goshorn, in the lower end of this county: Said Matthews is about 40 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches in heighth, dark complexion, wearing a heavy beard, sharp features. When last seen, wore a low crowned hat, a dark frock coat, made of tolerable fine cloth, black pants and vest. He generally carries fire-arms and a knife. A reward of $100 is offered for his arrest and confinement in the Huntingdon Jail.

Base Ball Items.

The Social Base Ball Club started on its tour on Thursday last and in the afternoon played the Juniata Club of Hollidaysburg with the following result:

Juniata,	3	13	1	25	14	10	6	1	7	—80
Social,	0	2	2	4	3	2	2	4	3	—22

The Juniatas, as usual, doing splendid batting, and taking advantage of easy balls.

The Socials, with as buoyant spirits as ever repaired to Johnstown, where on Friday they played the Kickanea pawling and were beaten again, as see:

Kicks,	8	2	14	7	4	9	0	1	11	—56
Social,	5	2	3	1	12	12	2	4	4	—45

The Social return thanks for the favors extended to them by both these Clubs. In justice to the Social we should state that their full "first nine" was not out. We hope to see them have better luck next season. We would recommend them to start a skating club or some other organization in order to keep their club together.

—The Spartans played the Oriental Club of Petersburg on Saturday last, but had to close at the end of six innings on account of rain:

Spartan,	12	10	4	1	0	4	—31
Oriental,	9	1	2	2	7	5	—26

The Great Meteoric Shower.

As the time (13th or 14th of November,) of the predicted great meteoric shower, similar to that of 1833, is rapidly approaching, we republish the following article in regard thereto for the information of our readers, and in order that those who feel so disposed may have time to make their arrangements to witness this sublime display of celestial fire-works:—

Great Shower of Meteors Expected.—Next in grandeur and sublimity to a total solar eclipse, or a great comet stretched athwart the starry heavens, is the great meteoric shower, such as was witnessed in November, 1833. On this occasion, from 5 o'clock till broad daylight, the sky being perfectly serene and cloudless, the whole heavens were lighted with a magnificent and imposing display of celestial fire-works. Arago computes that no less than 240,000 meteors were visible above the horizon of Boston on the morning of the 13th of November, '33. This display was seen all over North America. A similar display was seen by Humbolt at Cumana, South America in 1799. A comparison of the epochs of appearance of these great showers has led to the discovery that they are periodic, their returns being separated from each other by a third part of a century, or some multiple of this period, and are periodical appearances of one grand meteoric shower. Prof. Newton of Yale College, who has devoted much time to the investigation of these showers, finds that a prodigious flight of meteor, the most imposing of its kind, will make its appearance, probably for the last time in this century, on the morning of the 13th or 14th of November next. Only thirteen of these showers are reported between the years 903 and 1833. Such a rare phenomenon awakens a deep interest among all classes of persons. Preparations to observe this sublime spectacle, for scientific purposes, have already commenced in Europe. Let no one forget Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, November 13th and 14th.

Accidental Shooting.

A Young Man Shot.—On Saturday of last week, while on a gunning excursion in Blacklog Valley, a son of Mr. John Shope, a lad of about twenty, was shot by the accidental discharging of a gun, in the hands of a son of Mr. Edward Zurner.

Zurner, while capping his gun resting across his arm, let slip the hammer, discharged, the load the whole of which entered the arm and side of young Shope, who was standing closely in range of the muzzle, and was seriously, though, it is thought, not mortally wounded. Four or five shot entered his body, and it is supposed entered his lungs. This is another result of the careless handling of firearms, and should serve as a warning. —Shirleysburg Herald.

The Fish Way Completed.

We are gratified to learn from the Wrightsville Star, that there is a fair prospect of a free passage of shad and other fish up the Susqueaanna, during the next season. The Star says:

"The schute or fish way in the dam below this place has been completed by the Susquehanna canal company, and is now ready for the purpose for which it was designated. We suppose the shad will give it a trial on their next annual migratory fresh water tour up our stream the ensuing spring. If there were any young shad to decend this fall, as they were wont to do before dams were built in the Susquehanna, they could notify old folks when they arrive at home in shaddom, that the track is clear."

A Superior Number.

The Phrenological Journal for November contains sketches of the King and Queen of the Belgians, with likenesses; Chief men among the Mormons, with many excellent portraits and other illustrations; besides Lyceum Lectures; Dr. J. Fossati, the celebrated French Phrenologist; Public Opinion; Women who Talk; Family Dog; and a host of other reading, suggestive and profitable to all. Price 20 cents, or $2 a year. Address Fowler and Wells, 389 Broadway, New York.

The Mammoth Store.

S. E. Henry & Co., have on hand the largest and greatest assortment of Goods ever offered to the people of this county. Their store is the place to select anything you want. Their Goods are good and their prices reasonable—live and let live is their motto. Everybody should call at their mammoth establishment and examine their stock. *

A Neat Finish.

The painting of Fisher & Sons. new store room is a neat job—one that will equal any in the cities. Skeese & Hoffman need not be ashamed of that finish: they can risk inviting an inspection of the work.

A Singular Case of Pocket-picking.

One of the most remarkable cases of pocket-picking that has ever come to the knowledge of the Police authorities occurred the other day, in a Broadway stage. It appears that about 3 o'clock Mrs. Bloomfield H. Moore, of No. 1,718 Walnut St. Philadelphia, entered a Fifth-avenue stage at 14th street, on her way down town. Soon after, a clerical-looking gentleman entered the stage and seated himself close beside Mrs. Moore, although there was abundant room on the other side of the vehicle. This was not noticed at the time, however, as the stranger was of so respectable an appearance.

As the stage proceeded down Broadway, Mrs. Moore noticed a lady sitting opposite her making sundry gestures, as though she wished to attract her attention. Although Mrs Moore thought this conduct very singular, she paid no attention to it, however, and it was not until the clerical passenger had hastily left the stage that she became aware of the motive of the other lady, for the latter exclaimed: "Madam that man has picked your pocket." One of the male passengers immediately sprang from the stage and overtook the fugitive. The latter broke away and attempted to escape, but was a second time secured. Mrs. Moore then accused him of having stolen her pocket book, containing $28, when the man produced the property and gave it back to the owner, imploring her not to give him in custody of an officer. A a crowd had by this time collected in the vicinity, which attracted the attention of Roundsman Delamatter, who, on reaching the scene arrested the pickpocket and escorted him to Police Headquarters. On reaching the Inspector's office, Mr. Carpenter was informed of the circumstances attending the case by both Mrs. Moore and the officer.

The prisoner stated that he was Rev. Geo. T. Williams, and the Rector of the Episcopal Church at Suffolk, Sussex Co., Va., about 20 miles from Petersburgh, near the Nottaway river. He claimed that he had found the pocketbook claimed by Mrs. Moore on the seat between the lady and himself, and that he only took possession of the wallet for the purpose of advertising for an owner. This ingenious statement caused a broad smile upon the face of the veteran Inspector, who quietly informed the prisoner that he did not believe a word of it. On the person of Williams was found about $60 in greenbacks and a letter, of which the following is a copy:

RICHMOND, Oct. 30, 1866.

The Rev. George T. Williams is Rector of the Church at Suffolk, with this he has combined a school for support.

This place, during the war was the scene of revolution. Since the war Williams has been striving to re establish his church and school. But his people are poor and need help. This cannot be obtained in Virginia.

Mr. Williams is a faithful and useful minister. He is also faithful, and I believe remarkably successful, as a teacher. His school is a thorough Church school, I believe, from the testimony of all that have seen it.

I do earnestly recommend him and his cause.

GEO. WOOLBRIDGE,
Rector of the Monumental Church.

This letter of recommendation was endorsed by Rev. Charles Miningorode, rector of St. Paul's Church; Rev. H. Dyer, and Rev. Henry E. Montgomery Rector of the Church of Incarnation. Williams is a tall, spare built man smooth face and sandy hair, and appeared to be terribly distressed at his situation. He was locked up for examination before Justice Hogan, at the Tombs Police Court. The case will be brought up to-day.

The National Debt.

The mountain of debt left on the nation loomed up in formidable magnitude, when the smoke clouds of the war were wafted away by the gentle breath of peace. When its broad base and its lofty heights were first scanned by the eye of financial calculation, the inquiry arose in every mind, can it be leveled down? England had long before settled down into a despairing contentment with the impossibility of liquidating a debt not much more formidable, and braced herself for bearing it as a perpetual burden. The more buoyant spirit of our young nation chose the opposite answer to the question, and at once began digging and wheeling away the towering mass even while it was yet growing by the accretions of unsettled liabilities.

The next question war, how soon it could be paid. Very sanguine respondents placed the minimum period at thirty years. Legislation adjusted the revenue system on a basis that promised something like this, and the people cheerfully concerned. Twenty month's experience has confirmed the theory. As a consequence, our domestic confidence is confirmed, and our foreign credit is established. The rate of liquidation hitherto made will extinguish the debt in less time than was anticipated by the most sanguine.

And another question now may be reasonable and appropriate, whether it is best to pay it as fast as possible. And this involves other questions. Would not a somewhat slower process of liquidation answer the purposes of Government, on the whole, better than the present rapid rate? Might not a reduction of taxes give an additional impulse to individual enterprise, in developing the latent resources of the country? Is it not just that the payment of the debt, incurred in maintaining the Government, should be in part shared by a coming generation of citizens who are to share in its benefits? And might not a revenue to the public treasury less ample, suggest and perhaps secure more rigid economy in the expenditures of the Government?

Having discovered and demonstrated to the word our ability to pay the public debt in less than twenty years, if not less than twelve, the question, whether it is best to do it in that brief period, is one worthy of consideration by our people and by the authorities of our Government. It is our impression that no interest of the country, or of individual citizens, would be injured by a discussion of the subject, or so far as we comprehend it, by such a modification of the tax laws as would, while affording means to pay a fixed and moderate amount on the national debt release the people from a sensible portion of the taxation. Such a measure we think, would not only not impair the public credit in the least, but would give an impetus to private enterprise, and do something towards restoring business and prices to their healthful condition.—Pittsburgh Commercial.

☞A fish bill became a law last winter to compel the changing of the dams on the Susquehanna and Juniata so as to permit shad to work their way up, but we have not learned that the law is being complied with further than the construction of a schute in the dam below Wrightsville.

MEDICAL ELECTRICITY.

Wonderful Scientific Discovery

For the Treatment of Acute and Chronic Diseases.

The undersigned would respectfully call the attention of the afflicted females of Huntingdon county, and the adjoining counties, that I have taken instruction in the correct application of Electricity, and am now fully prepared to operate successfully for the cure of persons afflicted with the following named diseases, viz:

General Debility,	Neuralgia,
Kidney Complaints,	Nervous Diseases;
Liver "	Female Weakness,
Spinal Affection,	Piles and Gravel,
Costiveness,	Bronchial Affection,
Foul Stomach,	Dyspepsia,
Rheumatism,	Headache,
Diseases of the Womb,	Diabetes,
Suppressed Menses,	Goiter, or Big Neck.

Female patients can receive treatment at my residence for any of the above diseases with the wonderful discovery of Electricity, which is without a parallel, and the very desideratum for the afflicted. Please give us a trial. It is a mild operation, producing no shock or unpleasant sensation, and relieves where medicine has no effect at all.

LATEST FASHIONS DEMAND

J. W. Bradley's Celebrated Patent Duplex Elliptic, or Double Spring,

SKIRT.

The wonderful Flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded assemblies, operas, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, arm chairs, for promenade and house dress, as the skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any single spring skirt.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the duplex elliptic steel spring skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For children, misses and young ladies they are superior to all others.

They will not bend or break like the single spring, but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The hoops are covered with cotble and twisted thread, and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered; preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c.

The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the standard skirt of the fashionable world.

To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in crinoline, viz: superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, enquire for J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic, or double spring skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.

CAUTION—To guard against imposition be particular to notice that skirts offered as "Duplex" have the red ink stamp, viz: "J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Steel Springs" upon the waist band—none others are genuine. Also notice that every hoop will admit a pin being passed through the centre, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other spring.

For sale in all stores where first class skirts are sold throughout the United States and elsewhere.

Manufactured by the sole owners of the patent.

UNPARALLELED SUCCESS!

Orders have already been received for upwards of 300,000 Volumes of the AMERICAN CONFLICT!

HORACE GREELEY'S HISTORY OF THE GREAT REBELLION, AND THE WEEKLY ORDERS NOW AVERAGE 2,600 VOLUMES!

W. L. HARVEY, Agent, is happy to announce that this truly national work is now completed, and that he will be in Huntingdon county the second, third and fourth weeks in October, 1866, to supply it to his subscribers.—He will also take orders for and furnish the entire work to all who make early application.

Mr. Greeley's History of the Rebellion, is everywhere recognized by fair minded men of all parties, not only as the highest authority, but greatly surpassing all other works, both in conception of plan and excellence of detail, abounding in clear and graphic delineations of events, candid and accurate statements of facts, and marked throughout by the most thorough and painstaking research. It has been subjected to the most searching criticisms by the press of all political parties and religious denominations, and in not less than one thousand notices and reviews, by the most able journals, not only in this country, but also in Europe, its great superiority over all other works of the kind is most emphatically attested, even by the author's most determined political opponents. This work contains an account of all the battles, raids, skirmishes, &c., while there were fifty important battles, an account of which does not appear in Headley's or Abbott's, so-called histories of the war.

"It would be difficult to place too high an estimate on the service Mr. Greeley has rendered our country, by the preparation of this volume. I await the forthcoming of the 2d volume with eager expectation.—W. D. Kelly, M.C.

"I blame the works of labor, studied candor and accuracy.—Wm. H. Seward.

"Its accuracy gives it a value beyond any other history of that eventful period. The great industry and impartiality of Mr. Greeley will make this the best of all future histories of the great rebellion.—Thaddeus Stevens, M. C.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, a Democratic paper says of Greeley's History—"it contains a vast amount of information and is altogether superior to any volume on the subject that has yet appeared."

From the (London) Westminster Review:—"It is temperate and gives way to no vituperation, although thoroughly in earnest, and if we may admire the industry which has enabled the editor of the leading newspaper in America to do this at such a time, we may still more admire the spirit of fairness and directness which characterize this very valuable work."

Glorious News!

$100 ADDITIONAL BOUNTY!!

NEW BOUNTY LAW PASSED!

Attention, Discharged Soldiers!

The Act of Congress approved July 28, 1866, gives $100 additional bounty to all soldiers who enlisted for three years and were discharged by reason of expiration of service, or who were discharged for wounds received in battle and who have not received more than $100 bounty for such service. An additional bounty of $100 is also allowed to the nearest relative of soldiers who enlisted for a term of three years and who died or were killed in the service, to be paid in the following order: First, to the widow; second, to the children; third, to the father, and fourth, to the mother.

Soldiers' Widows.

By applying to W. H. Woods, of Huntingdon, Huntingdon county, Pa., you can have your pensions increased two dollars a month for each and every child you have, and when the widow has married or died, the children are entitled to the increase.

To all who have brought home the bodies of their friends who died or were killed in the service of the United States, there is a certain amount of compensation allowed you for the expenses incurred in bringing home the bodies of your friends, which you can obtain by making application to me.

Invalid Soldiers, Attention!

The act of Congress, approved June 6, 1866, gives additional pensions to the following class of persons:

Soldiers who have lost both eyes or both hands, $25 per month; who have lost both feet $20 per month; who have lost one hand or one foot, or totally disabled in the same, $15 per month.

Persons who have been deprived of their pensions in consequence of being in the civil service of the United States Government, can be restored to the pension roll by applying to me.

Fathers and mothers who were in whole or in part dependent upon their sons for support are entitled to a pension. Also brothers and sisters under sixteen years of age.

All discharged soldiers who did not receive transportation to their places of enlistment when discharged, are entitled to receive it; and also all who were held as prisoners of war, and did not receive commutation of rations when released or discharged, are entitled to it.

Officers who were in the service on the 3d of March, 1865, and were discharged after the 9th of April, 1865, by applying to me can receive three months extra pay.

Soldiers of 1812!

All soldiers, or soldiers' widows, of the war of 1812, who have served two months, or been wounded or disabled in such service, if in necessitous circumstances, are entitled to an annuity of $30.

Local Bounty.

All veteran soldiers who gave their credit to districts in the State of Pennsylvania, and who received no local bounty, are entitled to receive three hundred dollars.

All persons having any of the above mentioned claims, or any other kind of claim against the United States or State Governments, will please address me, giving full particulars, enclosing a stamp for return postage, and they will receive a prompt reply.

WOODEN PUMPS!

The merit of these pumps is shown by the fact that the demand for them is rapidly increasing everywhere. There is no iron in them to corrode and injure the water. They are light and convenient, so that every man can put in his own pump, the whole only costing him about one half the price of other pumps. Pumps, and wooden pipe to suit them, promptly shipped by railroad on receipt of orders. Give depth from floor to bottom of well.

Thankful for the patronage I have hitherto received I shall continue my endeavors to suit, accommodate and please all, and respectfully solicit a liberal share of public patronage.

BROUGHER'S PATENT EXCELSIOR

BROOM HEAD OR WRAPPER.

PATENTED DECEMBER 26, 1865.

Everybody his own Broom Maker.

This head or Wrapper is constructed of Tin or Zinc, with sliding band and bolts, in connection with the centre bolt passing thro' the handle, holding it secure.

The article to which we call your attention is very simple, light and strong, weighing but SEVEN OUNCES.

The farming community have long needed an article of this character; and the high price of Brooms, together with the simplicity, durability, and practical utility of this invention makes it more saleable than any other art icle ever introduced.

☞ We offer borough, township, and family rights for sale on reasonable terms, in the county of Huntingdon.

For further particulars, call and see the subscribers, or address THOS. G. STRICKLER & SON, feb7,1866 Huntingdon, Pa.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

TO THE LADIES.—Do you really intend to cease wearing the beautiful styles now so prevalent, or dress less elegantly, because the rebel Jeff. Davis, was captured in Fashionable Female attire? One moment's calm reflection will surely serve to change your rash resolve. The angels had too much good sense to lay aside their pure chaste robes of white, because they had for a time served to hide the deformities of that Prince of Rebels, the Devil. Can you err in following the example of Angels? Then having made up your minds that you will continue to dress tastefully regardless of rebellion, do not forget to call at the store of the subscribers, who will be happy at all times to furnish you with such articles of dress as you may desire. Urge your fathers, husbands, brothers, neighbors and children to visit the same store. They can here be suited in good articles of Boots, Shoes, Clothing Material, Hats, Caps, Queensware and a general assortment of Groceries, on as reasonable terms as at any House in town. Store on Southeast corner of the Diamond, Huntingdon, Pa.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE PICTORIAL BOOK OF

Anecdotes & Incidents of the Rebellion.

Heroic, Patriotic, Romantic, Humorous and Tragicx!.

There is a certain portion of the war that will never go into the regular histories, nor be embodied in romance or poetry, which is a very real part of it, and will, if preserved, convey to succeeding generations a better idea of the spirit of the conflict than many dry reports or circumstantial narratives of events, and this part may be called the gossip, the fun, the pathos of the war.

These illustrate the character of the leaders, the humor of the soldiers, the devotion of women, the bravery of men, the pluck of our heroes, the romance and hardships of the service. From the beginning of the war the author has been engaged in collecting all the anecdotes connected with or illustrative of it, and has grouped and classified them under appropriate heads, and in a very attractive form.

The volume is profusely illustrated with over 300 engravings by the first artists, which are really beautiful, worthy of examination as specimens of the art. Many of them are set into the body of the text, after the popular style of Lossing's Pictorial Field Book of the Revolution. The book's contents include reminiscences of camp, picket, spy, bivouac, siege and battle-field adventures; thrilling feats of bravery, wit, drollery, comical and ludicrous adventures; etc., etc.

Amusement as well as instruction may be found in every page, as graphic detail, brilliant wit, and authentic history, are skillfully interwoven in this work of literary art.

This work sells itself. The people are tired of dry details and partisan works, and want something humorous, romantic and startling. Our agents are making from $100 to $200 per month, clear of all expenses. Send for circulars, giving full particulars, and see our terms and proof of the above assertion.
